SICO[®] Introduces Durable, Linenless Rectangle FLT

New folding leg table features removable and reversible modesty panel and leg style options for maximum versatility.

Minneapolis, MN, August 23, 2016 – SICO[®] has introduced a new folding leg table with a variety of convenient features and options that provide valuable versatility for users. The durable SICO[®] Linenless Rectangle FLT (Folding Leg Table) includes a removable and reversible modesty panel plus three leg design options and popular choices for sizes, colors and finishes.

With this innovative table, now facility managers can create just the right look and setup for any meeting or event – while eliminating the costs and environmental impact of washing, drying and pressing linens. “SICO’s linenless FLT table is an ideal choice for facilities that want to project a sophisticated, professional image, while reducing operating costs. Our tables complement sustainability and environmental initiatives while increasing bottom line revenue by eliminating the need for linens,” said Heidi Niesen, Hospitality Sales Manager – The Americas. “The removable and reversible modesty panel and numerous feature options, make it easy to choose a table that fits everyone’s needs.”

In addition to 6-foot or 8-foot table lengths and four different widths, facility managers can choose from three leg styles – the Conference, T-Shape or Wishbone – to fit their specific seating arrangements, with different finish options such as chrome, black, silver or copper powder coat and each with a gravity lock for streamlined setup. And SICO® offers multiple table top choices including a high-pressure laminate surface and a plywood surface, with an impressive array of on-trend colors and styles.

The modesty panels are easy to attach on either side of the table, using SICO®'s unique keyhole lock system that's made from low-carbon steel for added toughness even with repeated use. Panels are also reversible adding even more flexibility to set-up uniquely styled arrangements. And, as with all SICO® table products, the Linenless Rectangle FLT includes the company's exclusive Armor-Edge® edging, which hermetically seals the table top for sanitary purposes, prevents water from entering the table top core, and provides unmatched protection against banging, bumping and everyday abuse common with folding tables. Armor-Edge® is available in a dozen popular color options to match the design and décor of virtually any space.

"Durability, flexibility and style – this new FLT really has it all," said Adam McMahon, Leisure Sales Manager- The Americas. "Plus, each table can be folded and placed into FLT caddies for easy transport and storage. We've leveraged SICO®'s best engineering innovations to create a folding leg table with a performance and versatility unlike anything else on the market."
